This season, I have continued to grow as an athlete and as a person. I had my first international racing experience early in the season and after nationals, won my first UCI stage race, le Tour de la internationale de Rimouski. I am consistent, driven, and hard-working. I love cycling. Racing and success are just expressions of the fire and passion I have within me. I am always challenging my limits and it is evident in my performance and results. I believe that each race is a learning experience and I am thirsty for knowledge. I agree with my coach when he says that "great success is made up not of failures, but thousands of successful attempts that provide better ways of doing things."
